

Curriculum Vitae

Dr. Petra Hoelscher works as a Project Officer, Social and Economic Policy, in the UNICEF Regional Office for Central and Eastern Europe and the Commonwealth of Independent States in Geneva. Prior to joining UNICEF in 2006 she was a Research Fellow in the Department of Applied Social Sciences at the University of Stirling in Scotland. Her main areas of interest are child poverty and social exclusion both in terms of understanding children's perspectives and the policies that are needed to improve the living conditions of children and their families. She is also working on monitoring the well-being of children on national and cross-national level.

Recent publications include:

- Hoelscher, P. (2007): Romani children in South East Europe. The challenge of overcoming centuries of distrust and discrimination. Social and Economic Policy for Children Discussion Paper No 7. Geneva: UNICEF Regional Office for CEE/CIS
- Bradshaw, J., Hoelscher, P. and Richardson, D. (2007): Comparing child well-being in OECD countries: Concepts and methods. Innocenti Working paper. Florence: UNICEF.
- Hoelscher, P. (2006): What works? Preventing and reducing child poverty in Europe. European Journal of Social Security 8, 3, 257-277.
- Hoelscher, P. and Sabatini, F. (2006): Beyond statistics - Participatory approaches to researching poverty and social exclusion among children in the CEE/CIS. In: A. Minujin, E. Delamonica and M. Komarecki (eds.) Poverty and children: policies to break the vicious cycle. New York: The New School and UNICEF, pp. 133-156.