

Short CV, Mohammed Shaheen

Has a PhD in Public Health, currently working as the dean of the school of public health and director of child research unit. One of Childwatch International board members and has different research interests and co-published research papers on child and maternal mortality, child nutrition, prevalence and types of traumatic exposures among Palestinian adolescents, children perspective of their own well being, citizenship and others. His interest has been focused on looking at the impact of political conflict between Israelis and Palestinians on the children's health and well being while supervising and carrying out health intervention programs at the different community level in the Palestinian territories.